You Have Legal Rights
- You can ask for a restraining order. A restraining order can help you by ordering the restrained person to:
  - Not contact or go near you, your children, relatives or others who live with you
  - Not have a gun
  - Move out of your home
  - Follow child custody and visitation orders
  - Pay child and spousal/partner support
  - Stay away from your pets

Do Tell
- Dahlia’s Story
  “Mommy worked nights so my new daddy was in charge. Mommy told me to always follow grown ups’ rules. But his rules hurt me. One day mommy took me to the doctor because it hurt when I went to the bathroom. I told about the games my new daddy made me play. I’m glad I told because now I am safe and nobody hurts me. My mommy says she is so glad we went for help at the Family Justice Center. Now we smile a lot more.”

Facts about Child Maltreatment
One in 5 U.S. children experience some form of child maltreatment: approximately 1 percent were victims of sexual assault; 4 percent were victims of child neglect; 9 percent were victims of physical abuse; and 12 percent were victims of emotional abuse.

In a nationally representative survey: 25.5 percent of female victims were first raped before age 12, and 41.0 percent of male victims were first raped before age 12.

Millions of Americans are affected by abuse. You are not alone. Caring people are here to help in a safe and supportive environment.

Valley CARES Family Justice Center is the first of its kind in Los Angeles County. We're here to help people who have experienced domestic violence. sexual assault and child abuse. Victims can meet with legal professionals, receive crisis intervention, and obtain information on shelters and other helpful resources — all while their children play safely in the next room. Rest assured you're in the right place.

Don't Keep the Secret
Child maltreatment, domestic and sexual violence occurs among all races, cultures, religions and income levels. It can happen to people of any age or sexual orientation.

Amelia's Story
"For eight years my partner beat, raped and locked me in the closet until visible injuries healed. My son called the police. Even though it was 11 at night, the center's sensitive staff and volunteers documented my injuries, collected forensic evidence and comforted me. With help from the Center's staff, I was able to regain my life through resume building, employment and educational planning and so much more. Today, we are free from violence and stronger as a family."

Facts about Domestic and Sexual Violence
One in three women will be physically abused or sexually assaulted by an intimate partner in her lifetime.¹

10.6 percent of women reported experiencing forced sex at some time in their lives; 1.1 percent of men reported experiencing forced sex at some time in their lives.²
